When you have other health coverage

Coordination of benefits

If you have Medicare and other health coverage, you may have questions about how Medicare works with your other insurance and who pays your bills first. Each type of coverage is called a “payer.” When there’s more than one payer, “coordination of benefits” rules decide who pays first. The “primary payer” pays what it owes on your bills first, then you or your health care provider sends the rest to the “secondary payer” (supplemental payer) to pay. In some rare cases, there may also be a “third payer.”

Whether Medicare pays first depends on a number of things, including the situations listed in the chart on the next 3 pages. However, this chart doesn't cover every situation. Be sure to tell your doctor and other providers if you have health coverage in addition to Medicare. This will help them send your bills to the correct payer to avoid delays.

Where to go with questions

If you have questions about who pays first, or if your coverage changes, call the Benefits Coordination & Recovery Center (BCRC) toll-free at 1-855-798-2627. TTY users can call 1-855-797-2627.

The BCRC is the contractor that acts on behalf of Medicare to collect and manage information on other types of insurance or coverage that a person with Medicare may have, and determines whether the coverage pays before or after Medicare. This contractor also acts on behalf of Medicare to get repayment when Medicare makes a conditional payment, and another payer is determined to be primary.

When you call the BCRC, have your Medicare Number ready—you can find it on your red, white, and blue Medicare card. The BCRC may also ask for information like your Social Security Number (SSN), your address, the date you were first eligible for Medicare, and whether you have Medicare Part A (Hospital Insurance) and/or Medicare Part B (Medical Insurance).
How Medicare works with other coverage—find your situation

Find your situation on pages 6 through 8 to see which payer generally pays first for Medicare-covered items and services, and which page to visit for more details. You can also get this information by visiting Medicare.gov.

Medicare pays first, and Medicaid pays second.

I’m 65 or older and have group health plan coverage based on my own current employment status or the current employment status of my spouse (pages 11–13).

- If the employer has 20 or more employees, then the group health plan pays first, and Medicare pays second.
- If the employer has less than 20 employees and isn’t part of a multi-employer or multiple employer group health plan (see page 18), then Medicare pays first, and the group health plan pays second. See page 13.

I’m in a Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) Plan or Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) Plan through my employer and get services outside the employer plan’s network (page 16)

It’s possible that neither the plan nor Medicare will pay if you get care outside your employer plan’s network. Before you go outside the network, call your group health plan to find out if it will cover the service.

I’m 65 or older, retired, and have group health plan coverage from my spouse’s current employer (page 16)

If your spouse’s employer has 20 or more employees, your spouse’s plan pays first and Medicare pays second.

I’m under 65, disabled, retired, and have group health plan coverage from my former employer (page 16)

Medicare pays first and your group health plan (retiree) coverage pays second.

I’m under 65, disabled, retired and have group health plan coverage based on my family member’s current employer (page 18)

- If the employer has 100 or more employees, then the large group health plan pays first, and Medicare pays second. See page 13.

I’m under 65, disabled, retired and have group health plan coverage based on my family member’s current employer (page 18) (continued)

- If the employer has less than 100 employees, and isn’t part of a multi-employer or multiple employer group health plan (see page 18), then Medicare pays first, and the group health plan pays second. If the employer is part of a multi-employer or multiple employer group health plan, the group health plan pays first and Medicare pays second.

I have Medicare due to End-Stage Renal Disease (ESRD), and group health plan coverage (including a retirement plan) (page 19)

When you’re eligible for or entitled to Medicare due to ESRD, during a coordination period of up to 30 months, the group health plan pays first and Medicare pays second. After the coordination period, Medicare pays first and the group health plan pays second. If you originally got Medicare due to your age or a disability other than ESRD, and your group health plan was your primary payer, then it still pays first when you become eligible because of ESRD.

I have group health plan coverage, I first got Medicare due to turning 65 or because of a disability (other than ESRD), and now I have ESRD. Who pays first? (Page 19)

Whichever coverage paid first due to your age or non-ESRD disability still pays first when you become eligible for Medicare because of ESRD:

- If you originally got Medicare due to your age or a disability (other than ESRD) and Medicare paid first, then Medicare continues to pay first even when you become eligible for Medicare because of ESRD.

- If you originally got Medicare due to your age or a disability (other than ESRD) and your group health plan paid first, then it still continues to pay first when you become eligible because of ESRD.

I have Medicare due to End-Stage Renal Disease (ESRD), and COBRA coverage (page 29)

When you’re eligible for or entitled to Medicare due to ESRD, during a coordination period of up to 30 months, COBRA pays first. Medicare pays second, to the extent COBRA coverage overlaps the first 30 months of Medicare eligibility or entitlement based on ESRD.

I get health services from the Indian Health Services (IHS) or an IHS provider (page 19)

- If you have group health plan coverage through an employer who has 20 or more employees, the group health plan pays first, and Medicare pays second.
- If you have group health plan coverage through an employer who has less than 20 employees, Medicare pays first, and the group health plan pays second.
- If you have a group health plan through tribal self-insurance, Medicare pays first and the group health plan pays second.

I’ve been in an accident where no-fault or liability insurance is involved (pages 19–21)

No-fault insurance or liability insurance pays first and Medicare pays second for services related to the accident or injury.

I’m covered under workers’ compensation because of a job related illness or injury involved (pages 22–25)

Workers’ compensation pays first for services or items related to the workers’ compensation claim. Medicare may make a conditional (a payment that must be repaid to Medicare when a settlement, judgment, award, or other payment is made).

I’m a Veteran and have Veterans’ benefits (page 26)

Generally, Medicare and VA can’t pay for the same service or items. Medicare pays for Medicare-covered services or items. Veterans’ Affairs pays for VA-authorized services or items.

I’m covered under TRICARE (page 27)

- For active-duty military enrolled in Medicare, TRICARE pays first for Medicare-covered services or items, and Medicare pays second.
- For inactive-duty military enrolled in Medicare, Medicare pays first and TRICARE may pay second.
- TRICARE pays first for services or items from a military hospital or any other federal provider.
- For active-duty military enrolled in Medicare, TRICARE pays first for Medicare-covered services or items, and Medicare pays second.

- For inactive-duty military enrolled in Medicare, Medicare pays first and TRICARE may pay second.
- TRICARE pays first for services or items from a military hospital or any other federal provider.

I have black lung disease and I’m covered under the Federal Black Lung Benefits Program (page 28)

The Federal Black Lung Benefits Program pays for services related to black lung. Medicare pays first for all other health care not related to black lung disease.

I have COBRA continuation coverage (page 29)

- If you have Medicare because you’re 65 or over or because you have a disability other than End-Stage Renal Disease (ESRD), Medicare pays first.
- If you have Medicare based on ESRD, COBRA pays first. Medicare pays second to the extent COBRA coverage overlaps the first 30 months of Medicare eligibility or entitlement based on ESRD.

How will Medicare know I have other coverage?

Medicare doesn’t automatically know if you have other coverage. However, insurers must report to Medicare when they’re responsible for paying first on your medical claims. A claim is a request for payment that you submit to Medicare or other health insurance when you get items and services that you think are covered. In some cases your health care provider, employer, or your insurer may ask you questions about your current coverage so they can report that information to Medicare.

You can also report your coverage information by calling the Benefits Coordination & Recovery Center (BCRC) toll-free at 1-855-798-2627. TTY users can call 1-855-797-2627.

Example: Harry recently turned 65 and is eligible to enroll in Medicare. He works for a company with 20 or more employees, and has coverage through his employer’s group health plan. Since Harry is still currently working, the insurer will report Harry’s group health plan insurance information to Medicare so that Medicare knows to pay Harry’s claims second.
Section 1: When you have other health coverage

What happens if my health coverage changes?

Insurers must report these changes to Medicare, but the changes can take some time to be posted to Medicare’s records.

If that happens, call the Benefits Coordination & Recovery Center (BCRC) toll-free at 1-855-798-2627. TTY users can call 1-855-797-2627. You’ll have to give this information:

• Your name
• The name and address of your health plan
• Your policy number
• The date coverage was added, changed, or stopped, and why

Tell your doctor and other health care providers about changes in your coverage when you get care. Also, contact your health plan to make sure they reported these changes to Medicare. Medicare uses your answers to help keep your file correct so your claims get paid correctly.

What if I have Medicare and more than one type of coverage?

Check your insurance policy—it may include the rules about who pays first. You can also call the BCRC.

Can I get coverage through the Health Insurance Marketplace if I already have Medicare?

Generally, no. It’s against the law for someone who knows that you have Medicare to sell or issue you a Marketplace policy. This is true even if you have only Medicare Part A or only Medicare Part B. Therefore, if you already have Medicare, you shouldn’t need to coordinate benefits between Medicare and a Marketplace plan.

On the other hand, if you don’t yet have Medicare but have coverage through the Marketplace, you can choose to keep your Marketplace plan after your Medicare coverage starts. But once your Medicare Part A coverage starts and you’ve been getting premium tax credits or other savings on a Marketplace plan, these savings will end. If you keep your Marketplace plan, you would have to pay full price. For this reason, in most cases you’ll want to end your Marketplace coverage once you’re eligible for Medicare. If you age into Medicare and decide to keep your Marketplace plan, then Medicare pays first.
The situations on pages 6–8 can help you find your type(s) of coverage and situation to see which payer pays first.

This section provides detailed information on how Medicare works with your other health coverage.

Medicare & Medicaid

Medicaid is a joint federal and state program that helps pay medical costs for certain people and families who have limited income and resources and meet other requirements. Medicaid programs vary from state to state, but most health care costs are covered if you qualify for both Medicare and Medicaid. Medicaid never pays first for services covered by Medicare. It only pays after Medicare has paid. In rare cases where there’s other coverage, Medicaid pays after the other coverage has paid.

Medicare & group health plan coverage when you’re still working

Many employers, employee organizations and unions offer group health plan coverage to current employees or retirees. In general, a group health plan gives health coverage to employees and their families. If you have Federal Employees Health Benefits (FEHB) Program coverage, your coverage works the same as it does for all group health plans. You may also get group health plan coverage through the employer of a spouse or family member.

If you have Medicare and you’re offered coverage under a group health plan, you can choose to accept or reject the plan. The group health plan may be a fee-for-service plan or a managed care plan, like an HMO or PPO.

I’m 65 or older and have group health plan coverage based on my own current employment status or the current employment status of my spouse and the employer has 20 or more employees.

If your or your spouse’s employer has 20 or more employees, the group health plan pays first and Medicare pays second.

Generally, your group health plan pays first if both of these are true:

1. You’re 65 or older and covered by a group health plan through your current employer or the current employer of a spouse of any age.

   Note: For this situation, “spouse” includes both opposite-sex and same-sex marriages where 1) you’re entitled to Medicare as a spouse based on Social Security’s rules; and 2) the marriage was legally entered into in a U. S. jurisdiction that recognizes the marriage—including one of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, or a U.S. territory—or a foreign country, so long as that marriage would also be recognized by a U.S. jurisdiction.

   An employer, insurer, third party administrator, group health plan, or other plan sponsor may choose to have a more inclusive definition of spouse than described above. Under these circumstances, the plan may pay, but isn’t required to pay, first for someone it considers a spouse under its definition. Contact your employer or insurer if you have a question about their definition of “spouse” and how claims will be paid.

2. The employer has 20 or more employees and covers any of the same services as Medicare (this means the group health plan pays first on your hospital and medical bills).

If the group health plan didn’t pay all of your bill, the doctor or health care provider should send the bill to Medicare for secondary payment. Medicare may pay on what the group health plan paid, what the group health plan allowed, and what the doctor or health care provider charged on the claim. You may have to pay any costs Medicare or the group health plan doesn’t cover.

Employers with 20 or more employees must offer current employees age 65 and older the same health benefits under the same conditions that they offer employees under 65. If the employer offers coverage to spouses, it must offer the same coverage to spouses 65 and older that it offers to spouses under 65.

I’m 65 or older and have group health plan coverage based on my own current employment status or the current employment status of my spouse and the employer has less than 20 employees.

Medicare pays first. Medicare may pay second if both of these apply:

• Your employer, which has less than 20 employees, joins with other employers or employee organizations (like unions) to sponsor a group health plan (called a multi-employer plan), and

• At least one or more of the other employers has 20 or more employees.

However, your plan may ask for an “exception” and request not to be part of a multi-employer group health plan. Check with your plan first and ask whether it will pay first or second for your claims.

I’m in a Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) Plan or an employer Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) Plan that pays first. Who pays if I get services outside the employer plan’s network?

If you get care outside your employer plan’s network, it’s possible that neither the plan nor Medicare will pay. Call your group health plan before you go outside the network to find out if the service will be covered.

If I don’t accept coverage from my employer, how will this affect what Medicare will pay?

Medicare pays its share for any Medicare-covered health care service you get, even if you don’t take group health plan coverage from your employer, and you don’t have coverage through an employed spouse.

What happens if I drop coverage from my employer?

If you’re 65 or older, Medicare pays first unless you have coverage through an employed spouse, and your spouse’s employer has at least 20 employees.

Note: If you don’t take employer coverage when it’s first offered to you, you might not get another chance to sign up. If you take the coverage but drop it later, you may not be able to get it back. Also, you might be denied coverage if your employer or your spouse’s employer generally offers retiree coverage, but you weren’t in the plan while you or your spouse were still working. Call your employer’s benefits administrator for more information before you make a decision.

Medicare & group health plan coverage after you retire

How does my group health plan coverage work after I retire?

It depends on the terms of your specific plan. Your employer or union or your spouse’s employer or union might not offer any health coverage after you retire. If you can get group health plan coverage after you retire, it might have different rules and might not work the same way with Medicare.

Can I continue my employer coverage after I retire?

When you have retiree coverage from an employer or union, it manages this coverage. Employers aren’t required to provide retiree coverage, and they can change benefits or premiums, or even cancel coverage (a premium is the periodic payment to Medicare, an insurance company, or a health care plan for health or prescription drug coverage).
Medicare & group health plan coverage after you retire (continued)

What are the price and benefits of the retiree coverage, and does it include coverage for my spouse?

Your employer or union may offer retiree coverage that limits how much it will pay. It might only provide “stop loss” coverage, which starts paying your out-of-pocket costs only when you reach a certain maximum amount of coverage.

What happens to my retiree coverage when I’m eligible for Medicare?

If your former employer offers retiree coverage, the coverage might not pay your medical costs during any period in which you were eligible for Medicare but didn’t sign up for it. When you become eligible for Medicare, you’ll need to join both Medicare Part A (Hospital Insurance) and Medicare Part B (Medical Insurance) to get full benefits from your retiree coverage.

What effect will my continued coverage as a retiree have on both my health coverage and my spouse’s health coverage?

If you’re not sure how your retiree coverage works with Medicare, get a copy of your plan’s benefit materials, or look at the summary plan description provided by your employer or union. You can also call your employer’s benefits administrator and ask how the plan pays when you have Medicare.

How does retiree coverage compare with a Medigap policy?

Medigap is optional insurance sold by private insurance companies to fill “gaps” in Original Medicare coverage. Since Medicare pays first after you retire, your retiree coverage is likely to be similar to coverage under a Medigap policy. Sometimes retiree coverage includes extra benefits, like coverage for extra days in the hospital. Retiree coverage isn’t the same thing as a Medigap policy but, like a Medigap policy, it usually offers benefits that fill in some of Medicare’s gaps in coverage, like coinsurance and deductibles. (Coinsurance is an amount you may be required to pay as your share of the cost for services, after you pay any deductibles. It’s usually a percentage—for example, 20%. A deductible is the amount you must pay for health care or prescriptions, before Original Medicare, your prescription drug plan, or your other insurance begins to pay.)
I’m 65 or older, retired, and I have group health plan coverage from my spouse’s current employer.

Your spouse’s plan pays first and Medicare pays second when all the following apply:

- You’re retired, but your spouse is still working, and
- You’re covered by your spouse’s group health plan coverage, and
- Your spouse’s employer must have 20 or more employees, unless the employer has less than 20 employees, but is part of a multi-employer plan or multiple employer plan.

If the group health plan didn’t pay all of your bill, the doctor or health care provider should send the bill to Medicare for secondary payment. Medicare may pay based on what the group health plan paid, what the group health plan allowed, and what the doctor or health care provider charged on the claim. You may have to pay any costs Medicare or the group health plan doesn’t cover.

I’m under 65, disabled, retired and I have group health plan coverage from my former employer.

If you get group health plan coverage through your own former employer and you’re not currently employed:

- Medicare pays first for your health care bills.
- Your group health plan (retiree) coverage pays second.

I’m under 65, disabled, retired and I have group health plan coverage from my family member’s current employer.

Your spouse’s plan pays first and Medicare pays second if all of these apply:

- You retire but your spouse is still working, and
- You’re covered by your spouse’s group health plan coverage, and
- Your spouse’s employer has 100 or more employees, or the employer employs less than 100 employees but is part of a multi-employer plan or multiple employer plan (see page 18).
Medicare & Medigap

If I choose to buy a Medigap policy, when should I buy it?

The best time is during your 6-month Medigap Open Enrollment Period, because you can buy any Medigap policy sold in your state, even if you have health problems. This period automatically starts the month you’re 65 and enrolled in Part B, and once it’s over, you can’t get it again.

Remember: You and your spouse would each have to buy your own Medigap policy, and you can only buy a policy when you’re eligible for Medicare.

For more information about Medigap policies, visit Medicare.gov/publications to view the booklet “Choosing a Medigap Policy: A Guide to Health Insurance for People with Medicare.” To find and compare Medigap policies, visit Medicare.gov/plan-compare, or call 1-800-MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227). TTY users can call 1-877-486-2048.

You may want to talk to your State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP) for advice about whether to buy a Medigap policy. SHIPs give free, in-depth, unbiased, one-on-one health insurance counseling and assistance to people with Medicare, their families, and caregivers. To get the phone number for your state, visit Medicare.gov/contacts, or call 1-800-MEDICARE.

What happens if I have group health plan coverage after I retire, and my former employer goes bankrupt or out of business?

If your former employer goes bankrupt or out of business, federal COBRA rules may protect you if any other company within the same corporate organization still offers a group health plan to its employees. That plan is required to offer you COBRA continuation coverage. See pages 26–27. If you can’t get COBRA continuation coverage, you may have the right to buy a Medigap policy even if you’re no longer in your Medigap Open Enrollment Period.
Medicare & group health plan coverage for people who are disabled (non-ESRD disability)

I’m under 65 and disabled. I have large group health plan coverage based on my own current employment status or the current employment status of a family member. Who pays first?

When an employer has 100 or more employees, the health plan it offers is called a large group health plan. If you’re covered by a large group health plan because of your current employment status, or the current employment status of a family member (like a spouse, domestic partner, parent, son, daughter, or grandchild), the health plan pays first and Medicare pays second. A large group health plan can’t treat any plan member differently because they’re disabled and have Medicare.

Sometimes employers with less than 100 employees join with other employers to form a multi-employer plan or a multiple employer plan. If at least one employer in the multi-employer plan or multiple employer plan has 100 employees or more, your group health plan coverage pays first and Medicare pays second.

If the employer has less than 100 employees, then Medicare pays first. However, Medicare may pay second if both of the following apply:

- Your employer, which has less than 100 employees, joins with other employers or employee organizations (like unions) to sponsor a group health plan (called a multi-employer plan), and
- At least one or more of the other employers have 100 or more employees.

However, your plan may ask for an “exception” and request not to be part of a multi-employer group health plan. Check with your plan first and ask whether it will pay first or second for your claims.

Example: Mary works full-time for a company that has 120 employees. She has large group health plan coverage for herself and her husband. Her husband has Medicare because of a disability, so Mary’s group health plan coverage pays first for Mary’s husband, and Medicare pays second.
Section 2: Medicare & other types of health coverage

Medicare & group health plan coverage for people with End-Stage Renal Disease (ESRD)

I have Medicare due to ESRD and group health plan coverage (including a retirement plan). Who pays first?

When you’re eligible for Medicare due to End-Stage Renal Disease (ESRD), permanent kidney failure requiring dialysis or a kidney transplant, the group health plan pays first and Medicare pays second on your hospital and medical bills during a coordination period of up to 30 months, regardless of how many employees the employer has or whether you’re currently employed or retired. This is also true in dual entitlement situations—like if you were previously entitled to Medicare on the basis of age or disability and Medicare wasn’t the first payer for you, and now you’ve become eligible or entitled to Medicare on the basis of ESRD.

If you’re eligible for Medicare only because of ESRD, the coordination period begins when you become eligible for Medicare. Medicare pays second during this period even if your employer’s plan says its policy is to pay second to Medicare, or otherwise rejects or limits its payments to people with Medicare. During the 30-month coordination period, your plan is billed first for services you get as a person with Medicare due to ESRD.

When you’re within the 30-month coordination period, if your plan doesn’t pay for covered services in full, Medicare may pay second for all Medicare covered items and services, not just ones for the treatment of ESRD.

Medicare & Indian Health Services (IHS)

Medicare pays first for your health care bills, before the IHS. However, if you have a group health plan through an employer, and the employer has 20 or more employees, then generally the plan pays first and Medicare pays second. If your employer has less than 20 employees, Medicare generally pays first and the plan pays second. If you have a group health plan through tribal self-insurance, Medicare generally pays first and the plan pays second.

Medicare & no-fault or liability insurance

What’s no-fault insurance?

No-fault insurance may pay for health care services you get because you get injured or your property gets damaged in an accident, regardless of who is at fault for causing the accident. Some types of no-fault insurance include:

- Automobile
- Homeowners’
- Commercial insurance plans
Medicare & no-fault or liability insurance (continued)

What’s liability insurance?
Liability insurance (including self-insurance) protects individuals who have liability insurance coverage against claims for things like negligence or other types of potential wrongdoing—for example, inappropriate action or inaction that causes someone to get injured or causes property damage.

Some types of liability insurance include:
- Homeowners’
- Automobile
- Product
- Malpractice
- Uninsured motorist
- Underinsured motorist

If you have an insurance claim for your medical expenses, you or your lawyer should notify Medicare as soon as possible.

Who pays first if I have a claim for no-fault or liability insurance?
No-fault insurance or liability insurance pays first and Medicare pays second for services related to the accident or injury.

If doctors or other providers are told you have a no-fault or liability insurance claim, they must try to get paid from the insurance company before billing Medicare. However, this may take a long time. If the insurance company doesn’t pay the claim promptly (usually within 120 days), your doctor or other provider may bill Medicare. Medicare may make a conditional payment to pay the bill, and then later will recover the payment after a settlement, judgment, award, or other payment on the claim has been made.

Example: Nancy is 69 years old. She’s a passenger in her granddaughter’s car, and they have an accident. Nancy’s granddaughter has Personal Injury Protection/ Medical Payments (Med Pay) coverage as part of her automobile insurance. While at the hospital emergency room, Nancy is asked about available coverage related to the accident. Nancy tells the hospital that her granddaughter has Med Pay coverage. Because this coverage pays regardless of fault, it’s considered no-fault insurance. The hospital bills the no-fault insurance for the emergency room services and only bills Medicare if any Medicare-covered services aren’t paid for by the no-fault insurance.

Who pays if the no-fault or liability insurance denies my medical bill or is found not liable for payment?

In certain circumstances, Medicare will make conditional payments when a no-fault insurer or liability insurer doesn't pay. If you also have group health plan coverage that pays first, the group health plan must be billed before Medicare, whether or not the no-fault or liability insurance pays or denies the claim. You’re still responsible for your share of the bill, like coinsurance, copayment, or a deductible, and for services Medicare doesn’t cover. A copayment is an amount you may be required to pay as your share of the cost for a medical service or supply, like a doctor’s visit, hospital outpatient visit, or a prescription drug. It’s usually a set amount, rather than a percentage. For example, you might pay $10 or $20 for a doctor’s visit or prescription drug.

What’s a conditional payment?

A conditional payment is a payment Medicare makes for services another payer may be responsible for. Medicare makes this conditional payment so you won’t have to use your own money to pay the bill. The payment is “conditional” because it must be repaid to Medicare if you get a settlement, judgment, award, or other payment later.

Note: You’re responsible for making sure Medicare gets repaid from the settlement, judgment, award, or other payment.

Example: Joan is driving her car when someone in another car hits her. Joan has to go to the hospital. The hospital tries to bill the other driver’s insurance company. The insurance company disputes who was at fault and won’t pay the claim right away. The hospital bills Medicare, and Medicare makes a conditional payment to the hospital for health care services Joan got. When a settlement is reached with the other driver’s insurance company, Joan must make sure Medicare gets repaid for the conditional payment.

Example: Bob has a heart attack. Medicare pays for Bob’s medical care for his heart attack and his recovery. Bob later learns that a prescription medication he takes may have triggered his heart attack. He’s part of a class action lawsuit against the company that makes the medication, and he gets a settlement. Bob must make sure that Medicare gets repaid for any conditional payments it made for him and related to his settlement.

How does Medicare get repaid for the conditional payment?

If you file a no-fault insurance or liability insurance claim, you or your representative should call the Benefits Coordination & Recovery Center (BCRC) toll-free at 1-855-798-2627. TTY users can call 1-855-797-2627. The BCRC will set up and work on your recovery case, using information from you or your representative.

The BCRC will gather information about any conditional payments Medicare made related to your no-fault insurance or liability claim. If you get a settlement, judgment, award, or other payment, you or your representative should call the BCRC. The BCRC will determine the final repayment amount (if any) on your recovery case and send you a letter requesting repayment.

Where can I get more information?

If you have questions about a no-fault or liability insurance claim, call the insurance company. If you have questions about who pays first, call the BCRC.

Medicare & workers’ compensation

Workers’ compensation is a law or plan requiring employers to cover employees who get sick or injured on the job. Workers’ compensation plans cover most employees. Talk to your employer, or contact your state workers’ compensation division or department, to find out if you’re covered.

If you think you have a work-related illness or injury, tell your employer, and file a workers’ compensation claim.

You or your lawyer also need to call the Benefits Coordination & Recovery Center (BCRC) toll-free at 1-855-798-2627 as soon as you file your workers’ compensation claim. TTY users can call 1-855-797-2627.

I have Medicare and filed a workers’ compensation claim. Who pays first?

If you have Medicare and get injured on the job, workers’ compensation pays first on health care items or services you got because of your work-related illness or injury. There can be a delay between when a bill is filed for the work-related illness or injury and when the state workers’ compensation insurance decides if they should pay the bill. Medicare can’t pay for items or services that workers’ compensation will pay for promptly (generally within 120 days).

Medicare may make a conditional payment if the workers’ compensation insurance company denies payment for your medical bills pending a review of your claim (generally 120 days or longer).

Note: This isn’t the same situation as when your workers’ compensation case has been settled and you’re using funds from your Workers’ Compensation Medicare Set-aside Arrangement (WCMSA) to pay for your medical care. See the next 2 pages for more information on WCMSAs.

Example: Tom was injured at work. He filed a workers’ compensation claim. His doctor billed the state workers’ compensation agency for payment, but she didn’t get paid within 120 days, so she billed Medicare, requesting a conditional payment. Medicare made a conditional payment to Tom’s doctor for the health care services Tom got. If Tom gets a settlement, judgment, award, or other payment from the state workers’ compensation agency, Tom must make sure Medicare gets repaid for the conditional payment Medicare made to his doctor.

What if workers’ compensation denies payment?

If workers’ compensation insurance denies payment, and you give Medicare proof that the claim was denied, Medicare will pay for Medicare-covered items and services as appropriate.

Example: Mike was injured at work. He filed a workers’ compensation claim. The workers’ compensation agency denied payment for Mike’s medical bills. Mike’s doctor billed Medicare and sent Medicare a copy of the workers’ compensation denial with the claim for Medicare payment. Medicare will pay Mike’s doctor for the Medicare-covered items and services Mike got as part of his treatment. Mike must pay for anything Medicare doesn’t cover.

Can workers’ compensation decide not to pay my entire bill?

In some cases, workers’ compensation insurance may not pay your entire bill. If you had an injury or illness before you started your job (called a “pre-existing condition”), and the job made it worse, workers’ compensation may not pay your whole bill because the job didn’t cause the original problem. In this case, workers’ compensation insurance may agree to pay only a part of your doctor or hospital bills. You and workers’ compensation insurance may agree to share the cost of your bill. If Medicare covers the treatment for your pre-existing condition, then Medicare may pay its share for part of the doctor or hospital bills that workers’ compensation doesn’t cover.

How does Medicare get repaid for the conditional payment?

If Medicare makes a conditional payment, and you or your lawyer haven’t reported your worker’s compensation claim to Medicare, call the Benefits Coordination & Recovery Center (BCRC) toll-free at 1-855-798-2627. TTY users can call 1-855-797-2627. The BCRC will work on your case using information from you or your representative, to see that Medicare gets repaid for the conditional payments. The BCRC will gather information about any conditional payments Medicare made relating to your workers’ compensation claim. If you get a settlement, judgment, award, or other payment, you or your lawyer should call the BCRC. The BCRC will calculate the repayment amount (if any) on your case and issue a letter requesting repayment.

You or your lawyer should contact the BCRC if you have a pending claim for workers’ compensation benefits and then contact the BCRC again if your claim is settled, abandoned or dismissed.

My worker’s compensation claim is getting ready to settle. When and why would I need a Workers’ Compensation Medicare Set-aside Arrangement (WCMSA)?

If you settle your workers’ compensation claim and have money in a Worker’s Compensation Medicare Set-aside Arrangement, you must use the settlement money to pay for related medical care before Medicare will begin again to pay for related care. In many cases, the workers’ compensation agency contacts Medicare before a settlement is reached to ask Medicare to approve an amount to be set aside to pay for future medical care. Medicare will look at certain medical documentation and approve an amount of money from the settlement that must be used up first before Medicare starts to pay for related care that’s otherwise covered and reimbursable by Medicare.

You and the workers’ compensation agency aren’t required to set up a WCMSA—it’s completely voluntary. However, if you set up a WCMSA, you must make sure the settlement money is used only for related medical care.

If you prefer to request approval of a proposed WCMSA amount yourself or if you’d like more information about WCMSAs, visit go.cms.gov/wcmsa.
Section 2: Medicare & other types of health coverage

What if I have a Medicare-approved WCMSA amount? How am I allowed to use the money if I manage the account myself?

Keep these in mind if you manage your WCMSA account:

- Money placed in your WCMSA is for paying future medical expenses, including prescription drug expenses related to your work injury or illness/disease that otherwise would’ve been paid by Medicare.

You should also use WCMSA funds to pay for these medical services and items, as well as prescription drug expenses, if you’re enrolled in a Medicare Advantage Plan (Part C), a type of Medicare health plan offered by a private company that contracts with Medicare to provide you with all your Part A and Part B benefits (most Medicare Advantage Plans also offer prescription drug coverage).

Medicare Advantage Plans include Health Maintenance Organizations, Preferred Provider Organizations, Private Fee-for-Service Plans, Special Needs Plans, and Medicare Medical Savings Account Plans. If you’re enrolled in a Medicare Advantage Plan, most Medicare services are covered through the plan and aren’t paid for under Original Medicare.

- You can’t use the WCMSA to pay for any other work injury, or any medical items or services that Medicare doesn’t cover (like dental services).

- Medicare won’t pay for any medical expenses related to the injury until after you’ve used all of your set-aside money appropriately.

- If you aren’t sure what type of services Medicare covers, visit Medicare.gov or call 1-800-MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227) for more information, before you use any of the money that was placed in your WCMSA account. TTY users can call 1-877-486-2048.

- Keep records of your workers’ compensation-related medical expenses, including prescription drug expenses. These records show what items and services you got and how much money you spent on your work-related injury, illness, or disease. You need these records to prove you used your WCMSA money to pay your workers’ compensation-related medical expenses, including prescription drug expenses.

- After you use all of your WCMSA money appropriately, Medicare can start paying for Medicare-covered and otherwise reimbursable items and services related to your workers’ compensation claim.

To find out how to manage (self-administer) your WCMSA, visit go.cms.gov/WCMSASelfAdm.
Medicare & Veterans’ benefits

I have Medicare and Veterans’ benefits. Who pays first?

If you have or can get both Medicare and Veterans’ benefits, you can get treatment under either program. When you get health care, you must choose which benefits to use each time you see a doctor or get health care. Medicare can’t pay for the same service that was covered by Veterans’ benefits, and your Veterans’ benefits can’t pay for the same service that was covered by Medicare. Also, Medicare is never the secondary payer after the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA).

Note: To get the VA to pay for services, you must go to a VA facility or have the VA authorize services in a non-VA facility.

Are there any situations when both Medicare and the VA may pay?

Yes. If the VA authorizes services in a non-VA hospital, but didn’t authorize all of the services you get during your hospital stay, then Medicare may pay for the Medicare-covered services the VA didn’t authorize.

Example: Bob, a Veteran, goes to a non-VA hospital for a service authorized by the VA. While at the non-VA hospital, Bob gets other non-VA authorized services that the VA won’t pay for. Some of these services are Medicare-covered services. Medicare may pay for some of the non-VA authorized services that Bob got. Bob will have to pay for services that Medicare or the VA doesn’t cover.

If the doctor accepts you as a patient and bills the VA for services, the doctor must accept the VA’s payment as payment in full. The doctor can’t bill you or Medicare for these services.

If your doctor doesn’t accept the fee-basis ID card, you’ll need to file a claim with the VA yourself. The VA will pay the approved amount either to you or to your doctor.

Where can I get more information on Veterans’ benefits?

Visit VA.gov, call your local VA office, or call the national VA information number at 1-800-827-1000. TTY users can call 1-800-829-4833.
Medicare & TRICARE

What’s TRICARE?

TRICARE is a health care program for active-duty and retired uniformed services members and their families that includes:

- TRICARE Prime
- TRICARE Extra
- TRICARE Standard
- TRICARE for Life (TFL)

TFL provides expanded medical coverage to Medicare-eligible uniformed services retirees 65 or older, to their eligible family members and survivors, and to certain former spouses. You must have Medicare Part A (Hospital Insurance) and Medicare Part B (Medical Insurance) to get TFL benefits.

Can I have both Medicare and TRICARE?

Some people can have both Medicare and other types of TRICARE, including:

- Dependents of active-duty service members who have Medicare for any reason.
- People under 65 with Part A because of a disability or End-Stage Renal Disease (ESRD) and with Part B.
- People 65 or older who can get Part A and who join Part B.

I have Medicare and TRICARE. Who pays first?

If you’re on active duty, TRICARE pays first for Medicare-covered services. TRICARE will pay the Medicare deductible and coinsurance amounts and for any service not covered by Medicare that TRICARE covers. If you’re not on active duty, Medicare pays first. TRICARE may pay second if you have TRICARE For Life coverage. You pay the costs of services Medicare or TRICARE doesn't cover.

Who pays if I get services from a military hospital?

If you get services from a military hospital or any other federal health care provider, TRICARE will pay the bills. Medicare usually doesn't pay for services you get from a federal health care provider or other federal agency.

Where can I get more information?

- Visit Tricare.mil/tfl.
- Call the health benefits advisor at a military hospital or clinic.
- Call TRICARE For Life at 1-866-773-0404.
Medicare & the Federal Black Lung Benefits Program

I have Medicare and coverage under the Federal Black Lung Benefits Program. Who pays first?

The Federal Black Lung Benefits Program pays first for any health care for black lung disease covered under that program. Medicare won’t pay for doctor or hospital services covered under the Federal Black Lung Benefits Program. Your doctor or other health care provider should send all bills for the diagnosis or treatment of black lung disease to:

- Federal Black Lung Program
- P.O. Box 8302
- London, Kentucky 40742-8302

For all other health care not related to black lung disease, Medicare pays first, and your doctor or health care provider should send your bills directly to Medicare.

What if the Federal Black Lung Benefits Program won’t pay my bill?

Ask your doctor or other health care provider to send Medicare the bill. Ask them to include a copy of the letter from the Federal Black Lung Benefits Program that says why it won’t pay your bill.

Where can I get more information?

Call 1-800-638-7072 if you have questions about the Federal Black Lung Benefits Program. If you have questions about who pays first, call the Benefits Coordination & Recovery Center (BCRC) toll-free at 1-855-798-2627. TTY users can call 1-855-797-2627.

Medicare & COBRA

What’s COBRA?

COBRA is a federal law that may allow you to temporarily keep employer or union health coverage after the employment ends or after you lose coverage as a dependent of the covered employee. This is called “continuation coverage.”

In general, COBRA only applies to employers with 20 or more employees. However, some state laws require insurance companies covering employers with less than 20 employees to let you keep your coverage for a period of time.

I have Medicare and COBRA continuation coverage. Who pays first?

If you have Medicare because you’re 65 or over or because you have a disability other than End-Stage Renal Disease (ESRD), Medicare pays first.

If you have Medicare based on ESRD, COBRA continuation coverage pays first. Medicare pays second to the extent COBRA coverage overlaps the first 30 months of Medicare eligibility or entitlement based on ESRD.

It can be a very complicated decision to decide if and when you should elect COBRA coverage. When you lose employer coverage and you have Medicare, you need to be aware of your COBRA election period, your Part B enrollment period, and your Medigap Open Enrollment Period. These may all have different deadlines that overlap, so be aware that what you decide about one type of coverage (COBRA, Part B, and Medigap) might cause you to lose rights under one of the other types of coverage.

Where can I get more information about COBRA?

• Before you elect COBRA coverage, you can talk with your State Health Insurance Assistance Program (SHIP) about Part B and Medicare Supplement (Medigap) Insurance. To get the phone number for your state, visit Medicare.gov/contacts, or call 1-800-MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227). TTY users can call 1-877-486-2048.

• Call your employer’s benefits administrator for questions about your specific COBRA options.

• If you have questions about Medicare and COBRA, call the Benefits Coordination & Recovery Center (BCRC) toll-free at 1-855-798-2627. TTY users can call 1-855-797-2627.

• If your group health plan coverage was from a private employer (not a government employer), visit the Department of Labor at dol.gov, or call 1-866-444-3272.

• If your group health plan coverage was from a state or local government employer, call the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) at 1-877-267-2323, extension 61565.

• If your coverage was with the federal government, visit the Office of Personnel Management at opm.gov.
CMS Accessible Communications

To help ensure people with disabilities have an equal opportunity to participate in our services, activities, programs, and other benefits, we provide communications in accessible formats. The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) provides free auxiliary aids and services, including information in accessible formats like Braille, large print, data/audio files, relay services and TTY communications. If you request information in an accessible format from CMS, you won't be disadvantaged by any additional time necessary to provide it. This means you'll get extra time to take any action if there's a delay in fulfilling your request.

To request Medicare or Marketplace information in an accessible format you can:

1. Call us:
   - For Medicare: 1-800-MEDICARE (1-800-633-4227)
   - TTY: 1-877-486-2048

2. Email us: altformatrequest@cms.hhs.gov

3. Send us a fax: 1-844-530-3676

4. Send us a letter:
   - Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services Offices of Hearings and Inquiries (OHI)
   - 7500 Security Boulevard, Mail Stop S1-13-25
   - Baltimore, MD 21244-1850
   - Attn: Customer Accessibility Resource Staff

   Your request should include your name, phone number, type of information you need (if known), and the mailing address where we should send the materials. We may contact you for additional information.

Note: If you're enrolled in a Medicare Advantage Plan or Medicare Prescription Drug Plan, contact your plan to request its information in an accessible format. For Medicaid, contact your State or local Medicaid office.
Nondiscrimination Notice

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) doesn’t exclude, deny benefits to, or otherwise discriminate against any person on the basis of race, color, national origin, disability, sex, or age in admission to, participation in, or receipt of the services and benefits under any of its programs and activities, whether carried out by CMS directly or through a contractor or any other entity with which CMS arranges to carry out its programs and activities.

You can contact CMS in any of the ways included in this notice if you have any concerns about getting information in a format that you can use.

You may also file a complaint if you think you’ve been subjected to discrimination in a CMS program or activity, including experiencing issues with getting information in an accessible format from any Medicare Advantage Plan, Medicare Prescription Drug Plan, State or local Medicaid office, or Marketplace Qualified Health Plans.
